

Coming Home to Saratoga

September 25, 2012

Mary Brown and Her Daughters Documentary Project

Sarah Brown and Lucy Higgins

a California story

photo by Alice Hare ca. 1912

Hakone Gardens 1 to 4 p.m.
21000 Big Basin Way
Saratoga, California 95070

Free

and open to the public
Let's go!

宗倉公一
詩末始末書
漢城

Afternoon Seminar Sarah Brown (1846 – 1916) orchardist and teacher

Jean Libby, project director Allies for Freedom

Saratoga Properties

Then and Now

City of Saratoga

Mary Brown's Cabin Site Found! Japanese American Contributions to California Agriculture

What's Next?

Dr. Rebecca Allen Northern California Cultural Resources Director, Environmental Science Associates

Japanese art found in Lucy Higgins' legacy

Japantown San Jose Art and History Projects, 2012

Randy Okamura, emcee

Lori Deal, descendant of Lucy Higgins, portrays Sarah Brown in a classroom video made at the Cooper-Garrod Winery and the California History Center at De Anza College. Sarah learned Japanese to teach English to pioneer Japanese families and protested Asian discrimination laws.

Information: editor@alliesforfreedom.org;
650-327-8493 Jean Libby

